Roles of long non-coding RNAs in gastric cancer metastasis: A systematic review

Zi-Guo Yang, Ling Gao, Xiao-Bu Gao, Yi-Liang Shi

Abstract

Gastric cancer is the second leading cause of cancer-related deaths. Metastasis, which is an important player in gastric cancer, leads to a high mortality rate and to a poor prognosis. Gastric cancer metastasis has a complex progression that involves multiple biological processes. The comprehensive mechanisms of metastasis remain unclear, though traditional regulation modules like
