

Biostatistics statement

Title: Transplantation of human induced pluripotent stem cell derived keratinocytes accelerates deep degree II burn wound healing in mice via COL7A1 mediated pro-migratory effects

The statistical method of this study was reviewed by a member of the Science and Technology Department of The First Affiliated Hospital of Soochow University.
Please contact me if you have any queries.

Signature:

A solid black rectangular box used to redact the signature of the reviewer.

2023.05.09