COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Rewiew Report I read the manuscript carefully. Poor prognosis of esophageal cancer is a well-known fact and early diagnosis of this disease is so important. This is a well-written paper, however i would like to put emphasis on several points. - Wortmannin is a kind of steroid metabolite of a kind of fungi. Detailed information about it should be given in the introduction section. -How can we use the result of this study in our practical medical life. Please write a sentence about it. -Please correct typical spelling mistakes. -References should be corrected according to the journal's rules. Thank you.
