

This retrospective study was approved by the Ethics Committee of Cancer Institute and Hospital, Chinese Academy of Medical Sciences (we have already upload the document). Written informed consent was exempted, because all patients had already sign the informed consents before treatment according to the institutional guideline, and all the information used in present study were obtained the raw data documented in the database.