COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The paper is interesting and can be published in WJGS after careful editing. Because the authors are not native English speakers, I recommend them to use Proofreading Agency service for improving the English.

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors made a concise review regarding the lymphatic spreading and lymphadectomy for esophageal cancer. The manuscript is generally nicely written; however, I have a major suggestion that the authors should provide a section discussing the role of concurrent chemoradiotherapy before surgery or the role of adjuvant chemotherapy in patients with lymph node metasiatsis.
