Dear Editor,

I am writing this brief letter in support of our manuscript entitled “Acute Esophageal Necrosis: a Systematic Review and Pooled Analysis”. Please note that I have personally proofed the grammar and syntax of the manuscript. I am an ECFMG-certified physician with English proficiency equivalent to that of a native speaker. For several years, I have trained and worked at Harvard Medical School both as a Postdoctoral Research Fellow and as a Resident Physician. I also hold an advanced postdoctoral degree in Applied Biostatistics from Harvard as well as a certificate of Proficiency in English from the University of Michigan.

Kind Regards,

Konstantinos S. Mylonas, MD
