1. This manuscript is conceptually acceptable for publication but requires proofreading for English. Overall written document is not impressive, various incomplete and unclear sentences are noted. Authors should also provide a small conclusion at the end of the section.

Answer: A professional-editing company proofread the manuscript for English eliminated the incomplete and unclear sentences. A short CONCLUSION was added at the end.

5. Language polishing.

We attached the certificate of English language

6. References and typesetting were corrected

We have revised references and typesetting.

Thank you again for publishing our manuscript in the World Journal of Gastroenterology.
