Restorative proctocolectomy with ileal pouch-anal anastomosis for ulcerative colitis: a narrative review

Sofo L et al. Surgery for ulcerative colitis

Luigi Sofo, Paola Caprino, Franco Sacchetti, Maurizio Bossola

Abstract

Restorative proctocolectomy with ileal pouch-anal anastomosis (RP-IPAA) is the gold standard surgical treatment for ulcerative colitis. However, despite the widespread use of RP-IPAA, many aspects of this treatment still remain controversial, such as the approach (open or laparoscopic), number of stages in the surgery, type of pouch, and construction
