

English language certificate

The preliminary evaluation of the English language of the manuscript by the reviewers revealed that the English language was given grade A “priority for publishing” by two of the reviewers and grade B “needs minor polishing” by the third reviewer.

Therefore, the English language was revised by a colleagues whose native language is English and any spelling, grammatical, or punctuation mistakes were corrected accordingly.