

NON-NATIVE SPEAKERS OF ENGLISH EDITING CERTIFICATE

22 April, 2022

I, Priscilla Chase Durán, linguist and professional translator and manuscript revisor, specialized in medical texts since 1990, certify that translation and linguistic and stylistic revision of the article entitled "The role of gender and primary tumor site on psychological distress, quality of life, and coping of patients with advanced cancer of the digestive tract" has been carried out with the utmost respect for the English language and expression, my mother tongue.

As previously stated, the translation and linguistic proofreading of medical texts and articles is one of my primary professional activities.
