COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This review "Embryology of the nose: The evo-devo concept" was well arranged and very interested to read. It can help the readers to understand how the complex intricacy of different anatomical structures composing the nose through evolutionary field of vision from fish, amphibians, mammalian to human. Please delete a word "the" at page 20, line 10. It should not be: which phylogenically was the the floor of the ethmoidal chambers and the roof.....
