

Informed consent statement

The subjects' information in the database was de-identified before the investigator accessed the data, thus informed consent was waived.