Manuscript Type: REVIEW

Dear Editors, Dear Rewiever

Thank you for reading our paper and for your analysis.

Herein to follow a point-by point answer to all your reccomendations:

- 1) The use of donors with melanoma and CNS tumors has been analized more in detail.
- 2) The use of portocaval shunt is controversial but many important centers still use it routinely. More informations on pro and cons about this technique have been added in the text.
- 3) A specific chapter on the use of split liver transplantation has been added regarding the use of splitted livers both for adult and pediatric recipients.
- 4) Allocation policy is still controversial all over the world. More informations about the principal allocational strategies have been added in the text.

Best regards
