COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The manuscript is well written and focused in the relevance to achieve a definitive criteria for AIP diagnosis. Tables and Figures complement well the text information. There is no major comments, but there are some misspelled words (page 9, second line: sometime), strange signs (~ instead of -) throughout the text. In addition at the end of the table titles, there is an extra ").

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Hiroyuki Matsubayashi et al summarize in this nice review the current evidence on the diagnosis of autoimmune pancreatitis. The issue is interesting and the data is well presented. I have just minor comments: a) In my opinion there are too many tables. I would suggest to be presented mainly the current guidelines by consensus, b) there is a need for English editing in some paragraphs c) in each table/figure the abbreviations to be reported for easy reading and d) in the last sentence of the abstract is the year 2010 correct ?
