

Informed consent statement: Informed consent from the included patients was not obtained because the study was retrospective, and only anonymous clinical data of the patients were obtained retrospectively from the records. The data were anonymous, and the identities of patients were not disclosed. Each patient provided written informed consent for undergoing hepatic venous pressure gradient (HVPG).