

I have my manuscript re-edited by a native speaker, who said the language meets the requirements for publication. I have also contacted AJE.com as the chief editor and science editor recommended. They asked me to use their free grammar checking system. (<https://www.aje.com/grammar-check/>). I have uploaded the revised file and the result showed we score 9.7 and the language did not need editing. The details were showed in the figure. Thus we did not edit our language.
