Liver transplantation for alcoholic liver disease: Lessons learned and unresolved issues

José Ursic-Bedoya, Stéphanie Faure, Hélène Donnadieu-Rigole, Georges-Philippe Pageaux

Abstract

The use of liver transplantation (LT) as a treatment for alcoholic liver disease (ALD) has been highly controversial since the beginning. The ever increasing shortage of organs has accentuated the low priority given to patients suffering from ALD, which is considered a "self-inflicted" condition. However, by improving the long-term survival
