Crohn's disease in low and lower-middle income countries: a scoping review

Ruma Rajbhandari, Samantha Blakemore, Neil Gupta, Alma Adler, Christopher Noble, Sara Mannan, Klejda Nikolli, Alison Yih, Sameer Joshi, Gene Bukhman

Abstract

BACKGROUND

While Crohn's Disease has been studied extensively in high-income countries, its epidemiology and care in low and lower-middle income countries (LLMICs) is not well established due to a lack of disease registries and diagnostic capacity.
