National preparedness training and exercises for Ebola cases in the United Kingdom

Andrew D Black, Hilary J Mouldsdaie, Mark R Evans, John L Simpson

Abstract

In response to the current outbreak of Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) in West Africa, the Emergency Response Department of Public Health England (PHE) produced a series of training and exercising materials to help prepare health and partner organisations in England and other jurisdictions in the United Kingdom deal with a possible case of Ebola in the United Kingdom. They were produced with input from health (NHS England, Health Protection Scotland, Public Health Wales) and other partner organisations. The exercising materials have been used by colleagues working in national and local level organisations in the United Kingdom and other countries in
