

CERTIFICATE OF BIOSTATISTICS

To Whom It May Concern,

I, Dr. Zoltan Herold (Applied biostatistician – University of Veterinary Medicine, Budapest, Hungary) reviewed the statistical analysis and methodology for the Manuscript entitled „High plasma CD40 ligand level is associated with more advanced stages and worse prognosis in colorectal cancer” by Herold Z., Herold M., Herczeg G., Fodor A., Szasz A.M., Dank M. & Somogyi A., which is under consideration for publication in World Journal of Clinical Cases. The statistical methods and techniques used in the manuscript are appropriate for the research.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.
