

The statistical review of the study entitled “Nonselective beta-blocker use is associated with increased hepatic encephalopathy-related readmissions in cirrhosis” was performed by a biomedical statistician Giovanna Saracino, PhD who is one of the authors.