RE: Manuscript titled: "Outreach onsite treatment with a simplified pangenotypic direct-acting antiviral regimen for hepatitis C virus micro-elimination in a Prison"

World Journal of Gastroenterology, Editor in Chief

Dear Dr. Editor,

I have reviewed the article by Chen et al., for investigating antiviral treatment efficacy among chronic hepatitis C patients in a prison based on their outreach experience. I have read the article thoroughly, particularly the part of statistical analysis in the section of method. With a background of epidemiology and biostatistics, I certify that the designs and methods of the work were appropriate. In addition, the tables the team provided are comprehensive and informative.

Sincerely yours,

Mei-Hsuan Lee, Ph.D.
