Dear prof. dr. A.S. Tarnawski,

The statistics methods used in this (revised) manuscript entitled “Current opinions on the use of therapeutic anticoagulation for splanchnic vein thrombosis in acute pancreatitis: a survey and case-vignette study in the Netherlands” does not include any statistical tests (e.g. only descriptive statistics) and therefore statistical review is not performed by a biomedical statistician.

Yours sincerely, on behalf of all authors,

Noor J. Sissingh, MD
