

Consent documentation

To whom it may concern,

Title: Covered transjugular intrahepatic portosystemic stent-shunt (TIPSS) versus large volume paracentesis in patients with cirrhosis- a real-world propensity score-matched study.

ID: 77696

This letter is to confirm that this study was performed following authorisation by the Clinical Audit and Registries Management Service (CARMS), University Hospitals of Birmingham Research Governance and Audit team.

All data was anonymised and no patient identifiable information has been used. All data is protected via GDPR.

Yours sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Dr Amritpal Dhaliwal', written in a cursive style.

Dr Amritpal Dhaliwal of behalf of all co -authors.

NIHR Clinical Research Fellow | ST7 Gastroenterology Registrar

Institute of Inflammation and Ageing (IIA),
University of Birmingham Research Labs,
Queen Elizabeth Hospital,
Birmingham, B15 2WB
University Hospital of Birmingham NHS Trust