

Informed consent

The patients involved in this study gave them written informed consent authorizing use and disclosure of them protected health information.