

19702 – Informed consent statement

The institutional review board of the University of Leipzig waived the need for informed consent due to the strongly retrospective and observational nature of the study.