

Informed consent statement

The study was performed in accordance with the Declaration of Helsinki, Good Clinical Practice and applicable regulatory requirements. No informed consent was required under French legislation since it was a retrospective study with no interventions other than routine patient care.