

Informed consent statement:

Personally identifiable data was not collected in this study. As this was an observational study, consent to any interventional procedure or treatment was not applicable. Consent for participation in the study was solicited by requesting participants to agree to a statement indicating the purpose of the study and a brief summary of the information to be collected. This was carried out prior to entry into the web-enabled questionnaire with a description of the study and its purpose, and responses.