

Jan 30, 2022

To Whom It May Concern:

Study title:

Clinical and predictive factors associated with need for TIPS revision

As discussed with : Xiang Li, Vice General Manager, Production Department Director, we concluded that given that our IRB was waived for consent due to it being a retrospective chart review, we do not need consent from each individual patient. This statement is in affirmation that our study was conducted appropriately according to the IRB.

Nikki Duong, MD

Nikki Duong, MD