

The National Inpatient Database was a public-use dataset, of which the informed consent was waived.