

Because this study does not involve humans and animals, there is no need for Ethics Committee documents.