

Institutional review board statement:

The McGill university health center (MUHC) research ethics board (REB) provided approval for the study entitled Transition care in inflammatory bowel disease: A needs assessment survey of Quebec Gastroenterologists and Allied Nurses. More specifically, the REB mentioned that in the case of a survey study such as ours, that there is automatic approval by the board given the nature of the design of the project.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "J. Swanson".

2017-03-22