	the role of Lnc524369 (ap003469.2) expression and the progression	[1] of HCC. Here I mention the progression because, in the study, the authors have shown that Lnc524369 increased the proliferation and migration capability of HCC cell line Huh-7. The experimental methods are very detailed and presented very well. However, the authors have referred to certain databases in the Introduction section and the information on the databases has already confirmed the primary results of the present study. These results are Lnc524369 is associated with immortalization and increased invasion capabilities of the tumor and 14-3-3 protein zeta/delta (YWHAZ) and RAF1 are on the downstream of this pathway. However, I respect the effort given to this study. The topic is within the scope of the WJG. (1) Classification: Grade C (By the reviewer ID 05038589). As I have stated above, the contributions of the current study to current knowledge is questionable. Therefore, I agree with the reviewer. (2) Summary of the Peer-Review Report: This is an experimental study and the authors have performed plenty of experiments and have given good results. However, the queries of the reviewer (reviewer ID: 05038589) is very important: a. Results figures are cited in the introduction HCC tissue sampling process should be clearly mentioned in the methodology before Cell lines section. b. In the methodology section, it is written that "According to the sequence of Lnc524369 gene (provided by the customer)," What customer? I think you are the customer that should provide the company and your readers by the sequence. It is copied and paste from the pamphlet of the company and this is unacceptable. c. Sentences should not start with numbers in figures, they should be written in letters. d. It makes more sentences to start your results section with the screening of the HCC tissues "YWHAZ mRNA and protein was tested in our included ten HCC samples by real time-PCR and western blot. e. " what is the exact number of samples used in study 41 or 10 or 5 as shown in your figure!!!! Correlation between Inc524369 level expression and pathological grade should be presented as a correlation analysis linear figure not a table with P-value. f. Figures are captioned screening in-vitro and in vivo?? What in-vivo?? you did not use any in-vivo models in your study I think you should revise your paper well before submitting it to avoid this type of confusion. Academic Editor's queries: a. In the materials and methods section the authors have described the transwell migration assay twice. Is there a specific reason for this? Because I have read them, and they both described almost the same methodology. b. It is not clear from methodology how the authors detected the cytoplasmic and nuclear expression of lnc524369 in HCC cell lines. In the results section, the authors have stated that they have chosen Huh-7 for transfection experiments. HepG2 cell line has the lowest expression of lnc524369 and Huh-7 has the highest expression levels. Wouldn't it be more important for your hypothesis to work on the low expression cell line and determine the changes in cell biology? c. Figures are not cited orderly throughout the results section? d. Why did the authors analyze the expression of 14-3-3 protein zeta/delta (YWHAZ) and RAF1 in the specimens of only 10 patients rather than all 41 patients? These Supplementary comments: The authors have performed a good flow of logic but the study itself is not novel. The points that the reviewer and the academic editor have emphasized should be revised by the authors. 5. Issues raised: (1) The keywords are appropriate (2) The language classification is Grade B. Please visit the following website for the professional English language editing companies that we recommend: https://www.wjgnet.com/bpg/gerinfo/240; (3) The title is appropriate (13 words); (4) The "Author Contributions" is appropriate. [Y]

10	The Manuscript Tracking information (i.e. , Received, Peer review started, First decision, Revised, Accepted, Article in press, and Published online) are provided along with the corresponding editor and date for each item, and contain no spelling errors.	[Y]
11	The Abstract section is formatted according to the article-specific style (structured vs unstructured) and word count thresholds, as follows: Commentary, Frontier, Diagnostic Advances, Medical Ethics, Minireview, Review, Therapeutics Advances, and Topic Highlight : Non-structured abstract that is no less than 200 words. Field of Vision, Case Report and Letter to the Editor :	[Y]

	The 'Key words' list provides 5-10 keywords that reflect the main 12	content of the study. The first letter of each keyword is capitalized,	[Y]
	and each keyword is separated by a semicolon.
	The "citation" contains authors' names and manuscript title. The name of the first author should be typed in bold letters; the family

	The 'Core tip' provides a summary (less than 100 words) of the 14	study that outlines the most innovative and important arguments	[\/]
14	and core contents of the paper and will serve to effectively attract	[Y] readers.
	The 'INTRODUCTION' section clearly describes the relevant background information for the study. Only the most relevant and 15	current (within the past 5 years) literature is cited, with the exception of rare instances of seminal literature citations. All technical terms and/or abbreviations are explained and/or defined,	[Y] with the full name of abbreviations given upon first appearance in the text and the abbreviation presented in parentheses [i.e., "computed tomography (CT)"]. First-person pronouns (e.g., 'I',
	'we') are used appropriately to clearly indicate the work performed by the author(s). When weaknesses of previous studies are described in the text to highlight the innovations related to the current study, the information is presented carefully.

16	The 'MATERIALS AND METHODS' section clearly and accurately describes all materials and methods used to obtain the data presented in the article and is adequate for a reader to repeat the study.	[Y]
17	The 'RESULTS' section concisely describes the observational and experimental results. Representative data and data that have scientific significance are emphasized. Data is presented in either the text, a table or figure (i.e. , chart, diagram, graph or image), but is not repeated among each. Information presented in the tables and figures clearly describes the trends, meaning, and inferences. Results described in textual form are accurate, concise and clear.	[Y]
18	Statistical symbols are accurate. Statistical significance is expressed as ${}^{a}P < 0.05$, ${}^{b}P < 0.01$ ($P > 0.05$ usually does not need to be denoted). If there are other series of P values, ${}^{c}P < 0.05$ and ${}^{d}P < 0.01$ are used, and a third series of P values is expressed as ${}^{e}P < 0.05$ and ${}^{f}P < 0.01$. Statistical data is expressed as mean ± SD or mean ± SE.	[Y]
