SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

I appreciate the opportunity to review the article by Young Joo Lee and Young Sun Kim. The article is very well written and relevant to the scientific community. I believe that because of the association of COP with viral diseases, it should be written in the text which types of viral infections were excluded because of the immunosuppressed state of the pregnancy. Was antigen or PCR testing done for influenza? In rare cases of POC there is an association with autoimmune diseases. Have you investigated collagenosis by serologic tests? #### SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

1. There are several expressions that need to be cautious: for example: line 27 "is an extremely rare in pregnancy" was missed a "noun" ; we report on COP diagnosed in recurrent pneumonia that does not respond to antibiotics in pregnant woman, "on" is not fitted here; Line 150, "In our patient" is not precise. 2. The format of the table 1 is not meet specifications. 3. It is recommended to increase the analysis of stage management during pregnancy.
