SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

1. The English need improvement since there are some grammatical and syntax errors in the manuscript. For example, • in page 1, in line number 23, the words “the the manuscript” may be as “the manuscript”; • in page 3, in line number 6-7, “conducted indeed” as “conducted”; • in page 3, in line number 8, “and fungal and” as “fungal and”; • in page 3, in line number 16, “stable” as “a stable”; • in page 3, in line number 29, “etiology, offering” as “etiology, and offering”; • in page 5, in line number 19-20, “the improvement” as “an improvement”; • in page 5, in line number 25, “a positivity” as “positivity”; • in page 5, in line number 27, “an edema” as “edema”; • in page 6, in line number 13, “a percussive” as “percussive”; • in page 6, in line number 14, “finger-to-ground” as “the finger-to-ground”; • in page 6, in line number 23, “blood” as “and blood”; • in page 8, in line number 22, “often” as “are often”. The grammar mistakes which are not mentioned here are also to be checked and corrected properly. 2. There are some typing mistakes as well, and authors are advised to carefully proof-read the text. For example, • in page 3, in line number 19, the words “joint ,” may be as “joint,”; • in page 4, in line number 26, “occurred by” as “occurs by”; • in page 8, in line number 10, “study” as “studies”; • in page 8, in line number 27, “however we” as “however, we”. The typos not mentioned here are also to be checked and corrected properly. 3. Check the abbreviations throughout the manuscript and introduce the abbreviation when the full word appears the first time in the abstract and the remaining for the text and then use only the abbreviation (For example, Ankylosing spondylitis (AS), IgG, etc.). Make a word abbreviated in the article that is repeated at least three times in the text, not all words to be abbreviated. 4. The authors should italic the term either “Clonorchis sinensis” or “C. sinensis” all over the manuscript uniformly. 5. The introduction part appears less informative about Ankylosing spondylitis and Clonorchis sinensis, thus this section should be indicated as detailed to understand the manuscript in clear since the main objectives is focused on Ankylosing spondylitis coexisting with Clonorchis sinensis infection. 6. In introduction, the authors may cite recent prevalence or incidence data about Ankylosing spondylitis and Clonorchis sinensis and it should be in 2022 or 2023. 7. The figure legends should be improved and a proper footnote should be given. All legends should have enough description for a reader to understand the figures without having to refer back to the main text of the manuscript. For example, the necessary abbreviations should be given which are used in the present investigation. 8. The authors may improve the discussion of their results by focusing on the present findings and introducing data from other authors who also worked with the same or other studies with recent references since it is lack of sufficient references and its seems in general.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

1. There are some grammatical, alignments and typographical errors are noted in the manuscript and it should be thoroughly checked and corrected throughout the manuscript. For example, the words “the innate” may be as “innate”; “far east” as “Far East”; “for 10 days before hospital” as “10 days before a hospital”; “to Rheumatology” as “to the Rheumatology”; “did not alleviate” as “was not alleviated”; “routine” as “a routine”; “Figure 2 A and B” as “Figures 2 A and B”; “Figure 2 C and D” as “Figures 2 C and D”; “of biologic” as “of biological”; “areas, when” as “areas when”. 2. This suggestion is not carried out properly (Check the abbreviations throughout the manuscript and introduce the abbreviation when the full word appears the first time in the abstract and the remaining for the text and then use only the abbreviation) For example, the expansion is not given for IgG. This types of correction need to be checked all other abbreviations used in the manuscript.
