SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The analytical results are really difficult to understand, this should be clarified. The authors need to add new references, and they used few references. The manuscript needs to be re arranged.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

1 Title reflects the main subject of the manuscript. 2 Abstract summarizes and reflects content of the manuscript 3 Key Words also reflect the focus of the case report 4 Background. There is no background in the manuscript. But I think it should be - I mean about short introduction consisted of 2-4 sentences (like in the beginning of abstract) with some 1-3 references (eg. Lin M, Chen Y, Ning J. Insulin Autoimmune Syndrome: A Systematic Review. Int J Endocrinol. 2023;2023:1225676. doi:10.1155/2023/1225676). 5 Methods. It doesn't require methods - it is a case report. 6 Results. The results are described clearly 7 Discussion conducted correctly, the case was discussed in relation to similar descriptions in the literature to the literature, thus the discussion is accurate and it discusses the paper's scientific significance and/or relevance to clinical practice sufficiently. 8 Illustrations and tables. Not applicable 9 Biostatistics. Not applicable 10 The manuscript meet the requirements of use of SI units. 11 References are appropriate. There are a little bit more papers in the field (eg. Cappellani D, Macchia E, Falorni A, Marchetti P. Insulin Autoimmune Syndrome (Hirata Disease): A Comprehensive Review Fifty Years After Its First Description. Diabetes Metab Syndr Obes. 2020;13:963-978.; Han

CY, Ye XM, Lu JP, et al. Exogenous Insulin Antibody Syndrome in Patients with Type 2 Diabetes. Diabetes Metab Syndr Obes. 2023;16:1895-1902.; Wamner ACP, Nermoen I, Medbøe Thorsby P, et al. Insulin autoimmune syndrome: not just one but two different diseases with therapeutic implications. Endocrinol Diabetes Metab Case Rep. 2023;2023(4):23-0032.; Li Z, Yi D, Zheng L, Li S, Fang W, Wang C. Analysis of the clinical characteristics of insulin autoimmune syndrome induced by exogenous insulin in diabetic patients. Diabetol Metab Syndr. 2021;13(1):38.), some of them are highly relevant, they were recently published – it can be cited also, but in such case report it is not necessary to cite all publications in the field. 12 At this point I have a remark - the manuscript is written a little bit carelessly, the style, language and grammar require corrections. Apart of that it is well, concisely and coherently organized and presented. 13 Authors prepared their manuscripts according to BPG's standards for manuscript type and the appropriate topically-relevant category: STROBE Statement - Case Control study. 14 Manuscript meet the requirements of ethics.
