SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This may be a very interesting report. However, considering the readers that should be able to understand full significance of the presented findings, some corrections should be made. In my view, Introduction did not fully describe the needed background. For instance, the authors should clearly state the differences between the standard procedure, and the novel procedure that they applied. Advantages should be more emphasized. If the novel procedure may have some caveats, they should be clearly mentioned. In my view the Discussion is quite similar to the Introduction. Instead, the authors in Discussion should more discuss the procedure, course, and possible complications (which were avoided (how?)). Also, Case report description (Result) can be presented in a more readable form. For instance, some subtitles will be helpful.
