based on the radiological findings, would you consider to change the title ???
Something like: Radiological aspects of a giant hepatocellular adenoma of the left liver.... or maybe remarkable radiological aspects... In my opinion you put a lot of efforts on imaging at this report and should make it clear! Considering the importance of the Beta-catenin-activated HCA in the evaluation of the malignant potential for these lesions
I suggest you to go a little deeper in this topic... specially when the patient is submitted to a liver biopsy prior to resection in smaller lesions.
