SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

It is good article which is suitable for the Artificial Intelligence in Gastrointestinal Endoscopy, however it requires lot of language polishing and corrections. I would request authors to implore in taking assistance in the preparation of this article, thank them for making all efforts for scripting this manuscript. Just to give an example; In this review, we thoroughly described the application and progress of CNN in detecting and classifying GC This should be; in this review we scrupulously elucidated the application and evolution of CNN in the detection and classification of gastric cancer
