COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Excellent review. Very well written. Would suggest an image of dye-based chromo over NBI as that is where the preponderance of the data resides.

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The manuscript "From the surface to the single cell: novel endoscopic approaches in inflammatory bowel disease" is an interesting review. Comments: The table 1 is not necessary. It is very specialized. This review lack of summary tables which mentioned indications, advantages and disadvantages of each endoscopic techniques. The figures were not mentioned in the text. The references are not conform to instructions of authors
