COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Dear Author, good editorial. I found some mistakes in English, for example: "Othyer" for "Other" in Delay in surgical treatment, "resistant" for "resistant" in Increasing antibiotics resistance,, "Vhen" for "When" in Surgical Technique

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This is very informative paper, but I would like to propose you two minor things. 1. The authors mentioned that there are few prospective or comparative studies, in the section of "scarcity of propective studies and guidelines" At least we have several data available. It is clearer to show these data on table so that the readers have better view about the current situation. 2. The current situations and problems are described in your paper, but is there any new challenges or specific program ongoing to overcome these problems? This kind of information is always informative.
