SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Review of the Manuscript 41644 1) This is a well designed, performed and written research paper on an actual topic. I have found few errors and want to present few remarks only. 2) For a general reader, it can be important to clarify, how the cecums were assessed at a long-term period? Did you perform relaparotomy? (I think, yes). Please note this in the text. 3) How many animals died from peritonitis during the experiment in different groups? 4) Figure 3: in a Legend, you have explained all abbreviations under columns except "B" (apparently, it was BPC 157). 5) Why did you use letters B and C for your figures (e.g., not traditional A and B)? 6) There are some inaccuracies in References 5 and 37. To be corrected. 7) I think, your amount of self-citations is excessive (even taking into account the fact that your team wrote most of the work on BPC 157).

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

I READ THIS INTERESTING PAPER: THE STUDY WAS WELL CONDUCTED, SCIENTIFIC METHODOLOGY WAS RIGOROUS, THE PROBLEM OF THE PAPER IS THAT ENGLISH IS NOT FLUENT AND SOMETIMES NOT VERY CLEAR, SO THE TEXT RESULTS DIFFICULT TO READ. THERE ARE MANY STUDIES ON BPC-157 THAT SHOWED TO BENEFIT IN INTESTINAL ANASTOMOSIS AND WOUNDS IN RATS AND READING THESE PAPERS I HOPE IT WILL HAVE A POSITIVE IMPACT EVEN IN HUMANS FOR CLINICAL APPLICATION.
