SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The paper is focused on the treatment with anti-TNF inhibitors, which is an important subject. The manuscript is well designed and uses an appropriate methodology. However, it presents a flaw, recognized by the authors, which is the small sample size.

Another problem is the lack of correlation of the marker used – calprotectin – with the endoscopic response. It is important to note that these failures occur in most papers on this subject. Despite the aforementioned, the work deserves publication.
