SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors described the liver involvement of COVID-19 and the effects of COVID-19 on liver function tests. The authors did not make any novel additions to the information in the literature but gave an excellent summary of the literature. Therefore, I think that this article will contribute to the literature.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The manuscript is very well written except it is hard to keep the track of data numbers presented. It will be great for the reader if you can present various facts and the data in the form of some figures and (or) tables.
