COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This is a case report that presenting a rare case of an ileoileal intussusception due to uplication of alimentary tract (DAT), the leading point is cystic lesions. This case is a rare congenital malformation and highlights the DAT as an uncommon cause of adult ileoileal intussusception. The case is rare and worth to report. The contents were well structured and written of English is ok, but need a little bit work on it.
