SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

When the authors use the word "Carcinoma or Cancer", they must indicate what is cancer in the Introduction or Background information in the text. If the authors read the Chapter 2 on "What is Cancer" in the most cited book on cancer therapy (<https://www.worldscientific.com/worldscibooks/10.1142/8056#t=aboutBook>) which is also now translated into Traditional Chinese (<https://hochi.meepshoper.com/products/5666c220-009b-4e87-bf35-6c608ab8a34c>) in 2019, then they will realize that this information is very important to attract the readership of this article. Therefore, the authors must cite this work before publishing this work here. If not, the manuscript is considered dull and incomplete. If the authors type "books on Carcinoma and Other Medical Applications" in their web browser, they will see many citations including many books published in recent years (<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC7071021/>;
