SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This is an article on a very interesting topic. However, for readers in countries where the concept of a 'nurse endoscopist' is not familiar, it seems that additional explanation is needed on this concept. (I understood it as a term referring to nurses who only do endoscopies, is that correct?) Were there any correct answer rate differences between nurse endoscopists and other endoscopists?

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The article is within the scope of the journal, and deals with an interesting topic. It is well written and the reading is fluent. However, it cannot be accepted in its current state. Some aspects need to be improved: a) The introduction to the state of the art should be extended. b) The description of the data used and the methods should be improved. c) A deeper discussion should be carried out comparing the results obtained with other similar works, showing the differences, advantages and limitations. d) The conclusions must indicate the scientific contribution of the work and establish a set of lines of future work.

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

It takes a lot of courage to acknowledge the reality. It is true that orientations in upper endoscopy is not standardized and the trainees really need that
