SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Bessone F. et al., submitted “Drug induced liver injury in Brazil” titled a Letter to the Editor. In this article the major finding was the recent DILI data based on Prospective, retrospective and registry-based studies. #1. When this data has been published? (specific date should be mentioned. #2. If those articles which were published before 2011 don’t reflect hepatotoxicity according to the new definition then I think there is potential conflict of interest with those published articles. This needs to be clarified. #3. What are the new ALT and total bilirubin value according to the new protocol? #4. The writing language could be more pronounced.
