SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors provide an update on the diagnosis and treatment of combined musculoskeletal and vascular injuries of the extremity from an orthopedic perspective. The manuscript is well written and organized. The abstract and main text clearly describe the background and the present study. I have only a minor comment: - As a survey, an insightful discussion is usually expected. Ideally, there should be some discussion pointing to the future directions in the surveyed topic. However, this part is missing.
