COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Authors reviewed a lot of reference and listed all recent methods of corneal transplantation, and compared the advances and disadvantages of those methods. Authors also highlight other ongoing studies such as artificial cornea and cellular transplantation. The title accurately reflect the major topic and content of the manuscript. The writing of manuscript is very good and there is no need for any language polishing. But it seems that there was less content of studies about building an artificial cornea with the artificial material and the stem cell. Please add more recent advance about artificial cornea and artificial corneal transplantation.

COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The manuscript is well-written. The length is not suitable for an Editorial.
